TRAVEL HINT & GENERAL INFORMATION

Entry Form. Please take extreme care with the copy of the entry form you received when you got your passport stamped at the airport. It will take time, work and a lot of hassle to get another one.

Hotels. Most hotels have safety deposit boxes in their rooms. It is recommended that jewelry, air tickets, documents and money are kept in them. Keep with you only what is necessary for daily use. Credit Cards are welcomed in most shopping centers as well as in large stores, restaurants and night clubs. But some places do NOT accept Credit Cards - you may need cash.

Money. The currency in Brazil is the Real (R$). Most banks will not be able to change your currency into Reais — only in a few branches of Banco do Brasil. You can change your money at exchange stores authorized to deal with foreign currency. ATM machines are available in many locations around the city.

Beach. Brazilians only carry a towel, sun tan oil or sun block and a small amount of money to the beach. We suggest you do the same. Avoid swimming far from the shore and be careful with over exposure to the sun, especially if your skin is sensitive. Remember, you are in a tropical country.

Water. It is suggested you drink bottled mineral water and NOT tap water.

Tipping. Restaurants, taxi and hotel tips are 10% - 15% over your bill. Most restaurants include 10% on their bill so it is up to you to leave an extra tip.

Transportation. Do not accept tours or excursions from taxi drivers. You may be disappointed. Yellow cabs are safe, but make sure the driver charge you by the meter. Special taxi service is also available throughout the city, but at a higher rate.

Underground trains covers a limited part of the city, but it is quick and safe. You can find a few stations in Copacabana and Ipanema. In general, we suggest you to contact your guide, or our office, for tours and transfers.

Language. Official language is the Portuguese. Spanish will be understood if spoken slowly. Some people will speak English, but not everywhere. But Brazilians are in general very friendly and communicative. They will make an effort to understand you.

Safety. Rio is a vibrant and exciting city of which you would like to take full advantage. As a world-class city, Rio also presents all of the typical challenges of a modern urban society. While the government takes measures to ensure a safe city environment, it is important to keep in mind that this responsibility also rests with you. We suggest that you bring only the cash that you need and that you keep them on you, do not wear jewelry, do not show off expensive looking cameras and do not change money with people in the streets. Use common sense
